AUTHOR GUIDELINES
The African Journal for Physical, Health Education, Recreation and Dance (AJPHERD) publishes research papers that contribute to knowledge and develop theory either as new information, reviews, confirmation of previous findings, application of new teaching/coaching techniques and research notes. All manuscripts should be sent to the Editor-In-Chief. These must represent original works, which have not been submitted or published elsewhere. Authors are normally advised about the decision on their manuscripts within 60 days. Authors are, however, reminded to return revised edition sooner. The African Journal for Physical, Health Education, Recreation and Dance (AJPHERD) is a peer-reviewed journal established to:

- provide a forum for physical educators, health educators, specialists in human movement studies and dance, as well as other sport-related professionals in Africa, the opportunity to report their research findings based on African settings and experiences, and also to exchange ideas among themselves.
- afford the professionals and other interested individuals in these disciplines the opportunity to learn more about the practice of the disciplines in different parts of the continent.
- create an awareness in the rest of the world about the professional practice in the disciplines in Africa.

GENERAL POLICY
AJPHERD publishes research papers that contribute to knowledge and practice, and also develops theory either as new information, reviews, confirmation of previous findings, application of new teaching/coaching techniques and research notes. Letters to the editor relating to the materials previously published in AJPHERD could be submitted within 3 months after publication of the article in question. Such letter will be referred to the corresponding author and both the letter and response will be published concurrently in a subsequent issue of the journal.

Manuscripts are considered for publication in AJPHERD based on the understanding that they have not been published or submitted for publication in any other journal. In submitting papers for publication, corresponding authors should make such declarations. Where part of a paper has been published or presented at congresses, seminars or symposia, reference to that publication should be made in acknowledgement section of the manuscript.

AJPHERD is published quarterly, i.e. in March, June, September and December. Supplements/Special editions are also published periodically.

SUBMISSION OF MANUSCRIPT

Three copies of original manuscript and all correspondence should be addressed to the Editor-In-Chief:

Professor L.O. Amusa Tel: +27 15 962 8076
Centre for Biokinetics, Recreation Fax: +27 15 962 8647
And Sport Science, University of Venda for Email: amusalbw@yahoo.com
Science and Technology, P. Bag X5050,
Thohoyandou 0950
Republic of South Africa

Articles can also be submitted electronically, i.e. via e-mail attachment. However, the corresponding author should ensure that such articles are virus free. AJPHERD reviewing process normally takes 4-6 weeks and authors will be advised about the decision on submitted manuscripts within 60 days. In order to ensure anonymity during the reviewing process authors are requested to avoid self-referencing or keep it to the barest minimum.

PREPARATION OF MANUSCRIPT

Manuscripts should be type written in fluent English (using 12-point Times New Roman font and 1.5 line spacing) on one side of white A4-sized paper justified fully with 3cm margin on all sides. In preparing manuscripts, MS-Word, Office 98 or Office 2000 for Windows should be used. Length of manuscripts should not normally exceed 12 printed pages (including tables, figures, references, etc). For articles exceeding 12 typed pages US$ 10.0 is charged per every extra page. Longer manuscripts may be accepted for publication as supplements or special research reviews. Authors will be requested to pay a publication charge of US$ 150.0 to defray the very high cost of publication.

Title page:
The title page of the manuscript should contain the following information:

Concise and informative title.
Author(s’) name(s) with first and middle initials. Authors’ highest qualifications and main area of research specialisation should be provided.
Author(s’) institutional addresses, including telephone and fax numbers.
Corresponding author’s contact details, including e-mail address.
A short running title of not more than 6 words.

Abstract
An abstract of 200-250 words is required with up to a maximum of 5 words provided below the abstract. Abstract must be typed on a separate page using single line spacing, with the purpose of the study, methods, major results and conclusions concisely presented. Abbreviations should either be defined or excluded.

Text
Text should carry the following designated headings: Introduction, materials and methods, results, discussion, acknowledgement, references and appendices (if appropriate).

Introduction
The introduction should start on a new page and in addition to comprehensively giving the background of the study should clearly state the problem and purpose of the study. Authors should cite relevant references to support the basis of the study. A concise but informative and critical literature review is required.

Materials and Methods
This section should provide sufficient and relevant information regarding study participants, instrumentation, research design, and validity and reliability estimates, data collection procedures, statistical methods and data analysis techniques used. Qualitative research techniques are also acceptable.

Results
Findings should be presented precisely and clearly. Tables and figures must be presented separately or at the end of the manuscript and their appropriate location in the text indicated. The results section should not contain materials that are appropriate for presentation under the discussion section. Formulas, units and quantities should be expressed in the system international (SI) units. Colour printing of figures and tables is expensive and could be done upon request authors’ expense.

Discussion
The discussion section should reflect only important aspects of the study and its major conclusions. Information presented in the results section should not be repeat under the discussion. Relevant references should be cited in order to justify the findings of the study. Overall, the discussion should be critical and tactfully written.

References
The American Psychological Association (APA) format should be used for referencing. Only references cited in the text should be alphabetically listed in the reference section at the end of the article. References should not be numbered either in the text or in the reference list.

Examples of book references:
Book references should specify the surname and initials of author(s), year of publication of the book, title, edition, page numbers written in brackets, city where book was published and name of publishers. Chapter references should include the name(s) of the editor and other specific information provided in the third example below.

PROOFREADING
Manuscript accepted for publication may be returned to the author(s) for final correction and proofreading. Corrected proofs should be returned to the Editor-In-Chief within one week of receipt. Minor editorial corrections are handled by AJPHERD.

COPYRIGHT AGREEMENT
The Africa Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation, Sport and Dance (AFAHPER-SD) holds the copyright for AJPHERD. In keeping with copyright laws, authors will be required to assign copyright of accepted manuscripts to AFAHPER-SD. This ensures that both the publishers and the authors are protected from misuse of copyright information. Requests for permission to use copyright materials should be addressed to the Editor-In-Chief.

COMPLIMENTARY COPY OF AJPHERD AND REPRINTS
Principal authors will receive ten (10) complimentary copies of the relevant pages in which their article has been published. In case of two or more joint authors the principal author distributes the copies to the co-authors. Reprints of published papers can be ordered using a reprint order form that will be sent to the corresponding author before publication. Bound copies of the journal may be ordered from: Dynasty Printers, 26 Pretorius Street, Mokopane 0600, South Africa. ## Psychological Skills Inventory (PSI)

In order for you to get some use from this questionnaire it is important that you respond to the statements as honestly as possible. Information provided by you is confidential and will not be available to any other person other than yourself and the sport psychologist.

- This questionnaire consists of a number of statements about the experience of competitive sport.
- Read each statement carefully then indicate how it applies to you when you compete in important competitions.
- There are no correct or incorrect answers. All you are required to do is to consider each statement in terms of your own sporting experience.
